

BEFORE YOU COMPLETE THE APPLICATION FOR A FACULTY LICENSE, please read this information carefully.

A Faculty License is to be completed by those individuals chosen by the Deans of the Medical Schools in Kentucky, who are recruited from outside of the United States, and do not meet all of the statutory requirements for a regular medical/osteopathic license.

Please note that the Faculty License is limited to the extent that this practice is incidental to a necessary part of the practitioner's academic appointment at an accredited medical school program or osteopathic school program and any affiliated institution for which the medical school or osteopathic school has assumed direct responsibility. According to KRS 311.571 (6)(c) under this license you shall not engage in the practice of medicine or osteopathy outside an accredited medical school program or osteopathic school program and any affiliated institution or program for which the medical school or osteopathic school has assumed direct responsibility.

This license does have restrictions and limitations.

If you will be joining one of the medical schools in Kentucky and you meet all statutory requirements, you will need to complete the Application for Medical/Osteopathic Licensure.
